

INT GARAGE

Richard is sitting with Rickey at the mic being interviewed.

RICKEY

"Here we have our executive producer Richard Milton who helped us start up"

"So rich, with all of these parents telling their kids to stop listening to this 'garbage', why are you helping us?"

RICHARD

"Well, I think the parents of this generation are so concerned about the changes in our world, that they don't even remember what it's like to be in these kids shoes. When I was young the dangerous thing was dancing, I mean it's still questionable, but we all did it anyways. It was fun, and if they just stop to realize that their kids are just trying to have fun like they did, they might change their minds on Rock and Roll."
